Christmas Cheer Provided

Organizations Bring Happiness To Many

Extending a helping hand at Christmas time will be carried on by two separate groups this year at Belle Glade. Junior Chamber of Commerce members staged a Christmas party with free goodies for youngsters at Osceola Center and the municipal park Tuesday afternoon and evening. In separate action, needy families were supplied with food checks, clothing and toys for youngsters under the auspices of the Salvation Army and Belle Glade Migrant Committee.

Jaycee members met at Chapman & Son packing house Sunday and sacked all the candy and fruit which was distributed Tuesday. Santa Claus was on hand both at Osceola and the city park for the parties. The events are annual in nature and children of all ages took part in the happy occasion.

Early this week migrant committee officials, with the help of the Salvation Army, Ministry to Migrants, Housing Authority and other civic and church organizations, supervised the distribution of food checks and other items to the needy families from Lake Harbor to Belle Glade inclusive.

Early this month leaders met at Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce with Mrs. Grace Graham, Salvation Army representative, to screen applications for families. As a result, food checks which can be exchanged for food at any store in Palm Beach County were distributed this week.

Brigadier General John Bivans of the Salvation Army, West Palm Beach, authorized the issuance of checks to this area. In addition, the checks had attached certificates to selected families for the distribution of toys at Belle Glade City Hall Wednesday.

Osceola and Okeechobee Labor Centers had separate toy distribution to children 14 years old or younger. Civic and church groups worked in both in association and in separate manner in selecting needy persons in the community to help.

Food checks ranged in value from three to eight dollars each. The Pahokee area was served through their housing authority, Salvation Army and migrant committee. Approximately 200 food checks and toy certificates were issued in the Belle Glade-South Bay-Lake Harbor area alone. This year, indeed, Santa had many helpers.

Christmas Slump Hits Vegetables In Glades Area

Following the largest single shipments from Glades last Friday in anticipation of the Christmas holidays, shipments dropped to normal mid-winter lows and shipments continued to lag behind a comparable period last year.

Carlot equivalents moving by truck and rail since the season began Oct. 28 total 3,653, a drop of 1,796 for the same day (Tuesday) last year. Friday saw 166 cars leave the Glades area; 79 of them celery; 33 were leaf varieties.

Total carlot equivalents for the week was 468. A few beans were available during the past week with slight demand and slow shipments. Corn was light in supply, but a good demand was noticed. A lower market was observed on celery a slow demand earlier last week is noticeably improved.

Lower prices and slower demand existed for leaf crops and a fairly good demand for potatoes was seen. Radishes are now at the bottom with offerings of 75 and 80 cents on the market for baskets of 30-40 bags.

Lighter shipments of cabbage returned $2.25 to $2.50. No F. E. C. Carloading Report This Week.

Football Awards Presented Friday At BGHS Banquet

Football awards to players at Belle Glade High School were presented to a dozen young men at the conclusion of a banquet Friday night at the school cafeteria. Outstanding awards were presented since underclassmen received their awards earlier. The whole team attended the banquet.

Under the direction of Assistant Coach Vince Marques, the boys received jackets, monograms and other awards during the ceremony. Athletic Director Jim Maynor was unable to attend since he was hospitalized. Guest speaker was Tom Pratt, freshman coach at University of Miami, who was guest of honor with county and local school officials, the athletic council and cheerleaders.

In a short address, Pratt stressed the importance of education at the secondary schools level since many young people come to college unprepared for study. He said of those who are gifted with ability, that they should carry their ability with them through life.

He said it wasn't how big or how strong a man was that counted, but what the person develops from his ability which (Continued On Page Eight)

Appliance Stores Will Close This Saturday

Through all recorded history man has sought peace, prayed for it, worked for it, lost it, and painfully renewed the struggle to achieve and hold on to it.

The greatest news ever told, first received by shepherds watching their flocks, proclaimed the Divine promise of peace for man—peace with his Maker, himself and his fellow men.

The greatest Christmas gift ever given, the Child born in Bethlehem, taught the way to peace—through supreme love of God and all human beings.

At his Christmas season of 1959 this newspaper joins in the universal wish for peace on earth, good will among men.

Big Holiday Net Tourney Will Feature Seven Teams

After four straight losses in basketball competition, the Golden Rams of Belle Glade High School enter holiday competition away from the regular season in the fourth annual Glades Invitational Basketball Tournament Dec. 28-31. The Rams play the second game Tuesday night against Jupiter's Warriors.

Prison Dinner

Features Turkey

Christmas dinner at Glades State Prison Farm will be a feast of roast turkey, according to Superintendent D. R. Large. Large said this week that the Christmas meal would be something special.

Featured on the menu for Friday's dinner will be turkey, cream of tomato soup, sweet mixed pickles, lettuce salad, celery hearts and cranberry sauce.

Other items include giblet gravy and cornbread dressing, canned yams, potatoes, green peas, rolls and oled, mixed cake, pumpkin pie, coffee, assorted fresh fruits and mixed nuts, mixed candies, cigarettes and cigars.

The Rams fell 59-53 as the Forest Hill Falcons made their cage debut Friday in their new gym. Doug Thompson hit 23 points to lead the Ram attack which faltered in the second and third period. Scott Lahti also got 23 for the Falcons.

The Ram Bees won their contest, 62-41.

On the basis of season records, Stuart (4-0) would appear to be the favorite in the contest.

Pahokee meets Okeechobee at 7:30 on the 28th, then Lake Worth plays the winner of that game Dec. 30 at 7 p. m. on the 29th. Belle Glade plays Jupiter.

BECAUSE OF FLORIDA'S SUNNY CLIMATE, that jolly old elf, Santa Claus, was caught at Belle Glade in a sleigh-less condition and called upon Belle Glade Postmaster George P. Farnall for a bit of assistance. Farnall was handing the last batch of cards and letters to Santa when the photo was snapped. Aside from the mail which went to Santa's North Pole Headquarters, Postmaster Farnall and his overworked helpers did a commendable job of mail and parcel handling for the Christmas season.

WMU Will Give Christmas Baskets

The Woman's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. L. C. Strayer, president, presiding. They had a study of the WMU year book. Episcopal Christmas Services

Episcopalians will usher in the Christmas season at the Christmas Eve Midnight Mass at the Church of St. John the Apostle, beginning at 11:30 p. m. The Vicar, the Reverend Robert N. Huffman, will celebrate the "Christ-Mass," and preach the sermon. Music for the service will be led by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. E. M. Lively, music chairman, and Mrs. G. H. Townsend, organist. In addition to the traditional hymns and carols, the musical setting to the Communion service, "Missa de Maria Magdalena" by Healey Willan, distinguished Canadian composer and organist, will be sung.

On Christmas Day, December 25th, another Holy Communion service will be celebrated at nine o'clock in the morning, for those not attending the Midnight Mass.

Holy Communion Service Tonight

The Community Methodist Church will observe a midnight Holy Communion Service on Christmas Eve (tonight) beginning at 11:00 p. m. As the Wise Men and the Shepherds found their way to the manger of the Christ on the First Christmas and knelt at his crib to worship Him, it seems fitting that we should welcome each Christmas on our knees as we worship Him in His Church. The Reverend Mr. Lee D. Rustin, Minister of Community Methodist Church, will be officiating, assisted by Dr. F. Ellsworth Henry, the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hollingsworth who is visiting here from Wayne, Pennsylvania, a suburb of Philadelphia.

In keeping with the mode of the Season the church will be brilliantly lighted with candles and decorated with white poinsettias. The chancel choir will sing part of the service as well as the anthem, Silent Night. This will not be a program, but a setting for the experience of quiet worship and dedication on this Holy Night.

In the Methodist Church the invitation to receive Holy Communion is not limited to members of the Methodist Church, but is extended to everyone who seeks to know and serve Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. All such are invited to be present in this midnight Communion Service as we seek peace and good will among men.

Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself. —Mary Baker Eddy

"And A Little Child Shall Lead Them" ...
At Christmastime let us become as children, with faith pure and simple. Let our hearts open wide to the significant message revealed at Bethlehem and renewed once again unto us all this season. Thoughts On Christmas

By L. E. Sloan, Minister Church of Christ

For scores of years men have celebrated an event called Christmas on the 25th of December. Men have ascribed this date to the birthday of Christ. Churches have their Christmas trees, their Christmas programs, they exchange gifts, and put their Santa Claus on display. All this to celebrate the birth of the Savior of the world. The Church of Christ also has a program which it puts on every Christmas. It is the same program that it carries on every Lord's day. Since Christmas is of human origin and not divine, it has no place in the worship of God. It has no place in the Lord's church. Yet, men go to great lengths in order to celebrate an event not required by God.

However, there is an event recorded on the pages of Holy Writ which is required by God's people. That event is the DEATH OF CHRIST. We celebrate this event by observing the Lord's supper. (Matt. 26:26-28; 1 Cor. 11:23-29) The Church of Christ does this once, but fifty-two times each year. This is in keeping with Holy Testament teaching. How sad it is when men forsake that which is required by God and with great show observe a human tradition in the name of religion.

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this statement (55:13-18): "The impersonation of the spiritual idea had a brief history in the early life of our Master; but of his Kingdom there shall be no end," for Christ, God's idea, will eventually rule all nations and peoples—imperatively, absolutely, finally—with divine Science."

following the pageant.

Young people of the church enjoyed a progressive supper Monday night beginning at 6:15 and the first course was at the home of Mrs. W. M. Jeffries and on to other homes that was scheduled for the remaining course. After the supper the group went caroling.

Special Activities
At Kingdom Hall

Frederick M. Dietz, traveling representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, is visiting the Belle Glade Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses this week.

James G. Zea, local presiding minister of the religious group, said these visits are provided to give members advanced training in the home instruction series conducted by the Witnesses world-wide.

One hour of free Bible instruction is offered in the homes by the Witnesses. "This personal aid given each week," Zea said, "is giving many local residents a new faith in God and his divine will."

During his visit Mr. Dietz and his wife are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Jav N. Morris on East Palm Beach Road.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Dietz met with the congregation at their Kingdom Hall located on East Palm Beach Road at the city limits, and conducted a ministry-development class.

Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock Mr. Dietz will be at the Kingdom Hall to take part in a Bible study group discussion which meets three each week. This group discussion will be conducted by Mr. Leroy Tillman whose home is on Tabi Road at the City limits.

"Christian development never ends," Zea said, "and the Christian minister can always advance in ministerial qualifications. For that reason the organization provides a continuous training program through study of the Bible and participation in Bible educational work."

The climax of this special week of activity is the public Bible sermon, Walking Wicely, to be delivered by Mr. Dietz, 8:00-9:00 p. m. at the Kingdom Hall.

Cub Scouts Ready For Christmas

Den 4 Cub scouts of Pack 622 held their last meeting before Christmas at the home of their mother, Mrs. Kenneth Brane.

They finished gifts they were making for their fathers and mothers and enjoyed a wicker roast and games.

Present were Mike Mikovsky, Den Chief, Philip and Ken Brane, Johnny Blakey, Gene Kicklighter, Philip McCarty, Wallace Watford, Bo Shiver, Bryant Price.

Richard McMillan was in charge of the opening ceremony at the meeting of Den No. 1 cub Scouts at the home of their mother, Mrs. Clarence Kidd.

The cubs talked about their theme of the month "Doing Your Best." They made decorations of pine cones which they sprayed and finished decorating the Christmas tree.

Refreshments were served by Joe Champion.

JUST ONE WISH...

Christmas 1959

The management and staff of The Belle Glade Herald take this opportunity to wish each and everyone of you a Merry Christmas.

In this year 1959, the world is not everything we would like it to be. We have a talent for organization, and a positive genius for making things—machines that are marvelously intricate and precise. Yet, among ourselves, we have never been able to fashion anything in this world except the unrelenting kind of peace on earth, a hesitant, suspicious attempt at good will toward men.

But once a year, at Christmas, the vision is available to us. Dimly, we catch a glimpse of what the world might be, if our ability to produce could be matched by an ability to understand.

Our shortcomings are many and glaring. Even today, half the world goes to bed hungry every night. And over us all streak the rockets. We live under the fearful shadow of our own new-found ability to make the earth a dead and shattered star, drifting lifeless through empty space.

And so, for each one of us individually, we make this Christmas wish. May we capture and hold throughout the New Year that spirit of love and peace and brotherhood that we can all glimpse at Christmas time. As the vision grows brighter, so will our world.

Virginia's Letter

On September 21, 1957 a simple question asked by an eight-year-old North Chatham, New York girl sparked one of the most famous editorials ever written.

Virginia O'Hanlon wrote a letter to the New York Sun which said:

"Dear Editor: Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in the Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

The answer to Virginia written by Francis Pharcellus Church has become the nation's most re-printed editorial. Now 70 years old with a daughter and seven grandchildren, Dr. Laura Virginia O'Hanlon has forgotten the answer to her letter.

Virginia and thousands of other children never have and never will lose faith in the words that Francis Church wrote.

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe

Professor's Friend Wore A Red Suit

The snow pattered softly down around the runthers of the big black sleigh; the wind, strangely gentle for December, whipped tenderly around the hunched figures of Dr. Clement Moore and his old Dutch handman, Peter.

Moore was tired, very tired. He had left his house in New York City early that afternoon to deliver Christmas presents to neighbors and friends. He had been receiving warmly the visiting had been pleasant, but it was evening now and Moore was anxious to be home.

But he also was a little uneasy about his arrival home, too. Mrs. Moore had planned a Christmas party for that evening. And Moore had made a rash promise to the youngsters, Margaret, Benjamin, Charles and Mary, a promise that he would entertain at the party with a little poem for the holiday.

Dr. Moore was sorry now that he had made the promise. Christmas poems were not really his line. Dr. Moore was a scholar, a professor of Oriental languages in the General Theological Seminary of New York. Yes, scholarship was more to his taste... as for Christmas poems... well, perhaps the poems would have to disappoint the youngsters.

Moore looked at Peter, seated beside him in the sleigh. Peter had just let out a great snort, and his broad face and round body shook with the effort. Peter was blanketing his nose—tucked a cherry red by the cold—with an immense handkerchief. Peter's self beard, white with snow bobbed as he said:

"Not too long now, sir... less than an hour and we will be home."

And then Peter gestured toward the sky and added: "A cold night, yet not a fine one."

Moore looked up. Peter was right. A full moon was out, bathing the trees and road in light. "How could I put it," thought Moore... perhaps:

"The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow."

"Gave a lustre of midday to objects below..."

Yes, that was pretty good—part of a poem anyway—and with a kind of pompous satisfaction Moore filed it away in his memory.

He watched as Peter whistled, then shouted to the horse. The sleigh flew swiftly over the winter snow... but, Moore thought, hardly fast enough. If only they could fly through the sky... pulled perhaps by some strange creature of winter... a reindeer would be wonderful... eight strong reindeer! Then, thought Moore, Peter would "spring to his sleigh" and to him give a whistle... and away they would fly like down on a hillside.

A dream, yes, but a nice dream; and exciting, particularly to a child's mind... for children like fantasies about ways of accomplishing the impossible because to them nothing is impossible anyway. And what more wonderful way than sleighing, by reindeer, flashing through the sky putting places in the flick of an eyelash.

But then Dr. Moore was jerked back to reality... the sleigh was stopping. "What's wrong, Peter?" asked Dr. Moore. "Why are you stopping?"

Peter jumped off the sled and called back: "It's nothing, sir, only a moment. Part of the harness has come loose from the singletree."

Moore watched as the old servant worked the strap buck on the swivel bar. And as Peter crouched in the moonlight, the snow clinging to his beard, Moore had an inspiration. It seemed that Santa Claus was right there before him.

In old Peter's face and figure, Moore sensed all the goodness and warmth of Christmas. And so Moore, working with Peter as his principal character, labored over his poem all the way back. The other pieces fitted in. The trip night, the house...

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house...

Not a creature was stirring not even a mouse...

You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your going to have men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus.

The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart.

Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that veil and glimpse into that world and, like the fairy, see and be glorified by its glory. Is it all real? Virginia, in all this world, there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God, he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

The Best Way to Say "Merry Christmas"

Uncle Dan From Democrat River Says

Dear Mister Editor:

Christmas time it will make a feller more humble and thankful for God's blessings, and makes him feel a little more friendly with the human race.

Yep, there's a lot of religion and Christmas spirit a feller can see these mornings way up there above that barn. If he looks long enough and hard enough his bitterness about politics, religion, or things in life will get a heap smaller and his love for mankind will get a heap bigger.

But I know there ain't many of you folks that is going to get up at four o'clock Christmas morning to see this wonderful sight, so I'll knock off my sermon right here. In the meantime, I ain't mad with nobody, Mister Editor, and my little pieces to your paper is always meant in fun. I'm at peace with everybody, including them free-wheeling Congressmen, a MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

But I think Christmas is a good time for a feller to try and get a better understanding of his friends and neighbors and use it to help hold together what little world we got left. It would help a heap of folks if they'd get up about four o'clock Christmas morning and go out and take a good, long look at the heavens above 'em. A feller can feel mighty small and humble when he looks up these cold, clear mornings at the vastness of a heaven full of shining stars and planets. He shifts to thinking there's a awful lot of space in this universe and that humans might not be all that important in God's scheme of things. The human race shifts around a lot and mopes don't stay put from one war to the next, but then heavens up there ain't changed a bit since the start of time.

Us rural folks that putters around about daylight doing chores and looking at that sky sometimes get sompin in our hearts and souls that a heap of city folks might not get. And at
